FESTIVE MOOD PREVAILS AS MUSEUM DEDICATED

Sunshine and summer breezes put all members of the Bethel Historical Society and invited guests in a festive mood on Wednesday, July 10, as they gathered in the late afternoon for the dedication ceremonies and official opening of the Moses Mason House. Under a large tent the audience listened to music performed by the brass section of the Portland Symphony Orchestra, prayers by the Rev. Thomas Caton of the West Parish Congregational Church, and speeches by Margaret Joy Tibbetts, President of the Bethel Historical Society, Dr. Sidney Davidson representing the Trustees of the William Bingham II Trust for Charity, and Robert Damm, Director of the Maine State Museum.

In introducing Dr. Davidson, Miss Tibbetts said:
"Our goal is to commemorate and to educate in the way in which earlier generations lived. The past is not automatically better than the present simply because it is the past. But good or bad, the past is inescapably part of all of us. We know that the Bethel of Dr. Mason's time was at times a very cold and forbidding place; life on the frontier is difficult and can be dangerous, and there were many who simply could not take it and returned to Massachusetts or the coast. From those who remained and became our predecessors we can learn of courage and the will to overcome difficulties. We can learn other lessons. The Bethel citizens of the time held together in times of trouble and were warmed by a love of their country. They had a deep respect for learning and an idealistic faith in the future. Finally, they revered and loved God.

"I wish now to express our gratitude to the Trustees of the William Bingham II Trust for Charity, who restored this building in memory of William Bingham II, who for many years gave generously to the people of this area and presented it to the Bethel Historical Society. To one of these Trustees we owe special thanks. Dr. Sidney Davidson received of the Society's using the House as a Museum—and he has wisely urged that the Society concentrate on programs which will be of interest to young people. Dr. Davidson has both vision and tenacity, a formidable combination, and he continued on Page Five

FERGUSON IS CHAIRMAN OF G. O. P. COUNTY FINANCE COMMITTEE

Norman K. Ferguson, Sr., of Hanover has been elected chairman of the Oxford County Finance Committee for the 1974 Finance Campaign. The Republican Party of Maine has started its 1974 fundraising campaign; has adopted a state-wide budget and established county and town quotas.

The goal for the state is $283,550; the Oxford GOP County share is $14,000. The money is raised to help elect national, state and local candidates in 1974, maintain headquarters in Augusta; building and debt retirement; salaries of executive director and general staff to keep the organization in operation on a year round basis also to provide some funds for the Oxford County Republican Committee and for Oxford County and State candidates. Ferguson is asking everyone interested in the Republican Party and good government to contribute as much as possible to your local town solicitor or mail your contribution to him at Hanover, Maine. This will put your town over the top in meeting this quota. Sending your contributions to your local or county chairman will save a lot of extra work on the part of your solicitors, local chairmen and Ferguson, your county finance chairman. Checks should be made payable to the Republican Finance Committee and mailed direct to Norman K. Ferguson, Sr., Box 38, Hanover, Maine 01237.

The following town finance chairmen have been elected: Andover, George Chase; Bethel, Leland Brown; Brownfield, Howard Ward

REGULAR SESSION OF S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS HELD AT ANDOVER

The S. A. D. 44 board of directors held a regular meeting at the Andover Elementary School on Monday evening of this week.

The board approved a proposal for Superintendency Internship by Howard A. Walen, to be served under the supervision of Basil E. Kinney, S. A. D. 44 superintendent. The internship will be accomplished outside of the regular hours of Mr. Walen's duties as Telstar assistant principal, and will incur no expense to the district. An internship is one of the requirements for eventual certification as a superintendent.

It was the decision of the directors to dispose of, by bid, a 1959 Ford pickup truck and a 25 KW generator, and to advertise the request for bids in a local newspaper. Bids will be due Aug. 19.

The board turned down a request to construct a shelter for the smoking area at Telstar. The proposed shelter would have been for the quenching the designated smoking use of those Telstar students frequenting the inclement weather.

Authorized by the board was the repair of the Telstar gymnasium floor by Alleghany Floors. Approximately 400 square feet of the surface was damaged during the past season by an apparent condensation of moisture which permeated the floor to the concrete base. It was feared initially that the damage was caused by ground water penetrating the concrete slab.

A proposal that physical education be made optional for students in grades 11 and 12 was not approved. It was the unanimous request of board members present that a summary of the present Telstar physical education program; requirements, credits granted, etc.; be presented at the Aug. 19 meeting for review.

Also failing of board approval was a statement concerning extra curricular eligibility for Telstar students, as follows: "Any student at Telstar is eligible for participation in any and/or all extra curricular activities sponsored by the school and continued participation is dependent upon his performance in the activity or activities as judged by the activity director. Also decision may be appealed to the Principal, who will review the case."

The nomination of Richard Percott to serve as chairman of the Business Education Department at Telstar was approved by the board. Donald G. Hobert of Orland, was approved as a teacher of business education to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Ralph Niemi. Mr. Niemi will serve as driver education director for the 1974-75 academic year.

Mr. Hobert is a graduate of Mexico High School, and received his

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corra. —
Nights all have a sameness but the dawns are all different.

This morning at five thirty I sauntered along our driveway where the roses were in full bloom. Another dawn . . . serene and sweet. Brilliant green at my side and across all the lowlands. These varied shades of trees and the smell of roses was enough to delight anyone. Then I saw them! Three brown thrashers. I stopped to watch and they seemed not afraid. Their long rounded tails darkly streaked breasts, and rusty-red color identified them at once. Although I had seen them in the woods I had never seen them that near to the house. They usually prefer to retire to the bushy pastures or thickets.

At one o'clock our hiking "class", five today, started on a woody trail to explore. The trail led us to a man-made pond with a cement dam, where falls, cool and white, dropped to a brook which hurried down the slope in its gully then leisurely on; its shallow currents feeling their way through the thickets.

We crossed the dam and followed a trail by the shore. Here grew the sheep laurel with deep pink flowers in lateral clusters. We had not gone far when I noticed in the water two hornpout guarding their hundred or more babies. One of our group said, "Don't they have long eyelashes."

There were many mosquitoes to sing and bite. We went a short distance then returned to take another trail. The hornpout had moved. They were now partially hidden under weeds.

This trail took us to a pond a mile back into the forest. The mellow sunshine, contrasted brightly with the deep, cobalt blue of the sky, the green of leaves and moss, and gray of the rocks.

Chipmunks were plentiful; greeting us from logs and bushes. The trail was furnished with little gardens, lending charming surprises. One we especially noticed in two different places was the part-ridge vine in bloom. Its sister blossoms, which are its glory, resembled the Mayflower in appearance and sweetness. Another was the shinleaf pyrola which resembles our garden lily-of-the-valley or the wild pipsissewa.

Innumerable insects continued to dance, bite and buzz. We fully expected to need blood transfusions on our return. Why had we left our bug repellent at home??

The little pond was calm and peaceful reflecting its shore lines and one tiny boat was anchored in its "harbor." Wonder how it got there? A tug over the trail, no doubt, by some interested people.

A cliff at the left, its gray walls glowing with life, was softly adorned with foliage. Its feet were among the groves and its head bathed in light.

When we were nearly back to the car, in almost perfect silence, a tree, only a hundred feet or so away in the forest to our left, came down with a crash. Why, in all the hours of existence had it chosen this particular moment to fall? There was no wind.

We faced the mountains on our homeward way. The upper world of clouds swelled with visible motion, and piled high. The mountains were projected against them with exquisite clearness of outline. These cloud formations vanished from the azure as quickly as they had developed.

We had explored another interesting corridor in our small world; amid relaxing sounds, rustle of leaves, songs of brooks, lap of waves; all gifts of nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Saarinen, Westbrook were callers, Tuesday, at the Holt's.

Ann and Fay Holt and Colista Morgan were in Bridgton on Wednesday. Ann and Fay went on to North Conway and Colista visited a classmate of Gould days, Irene Leibold.

MIDDLEDAM

Jane Costa

Mrs. Edgar French of Forest Lodge had as her guest for a few days, Mrs. Stolba of Massachusetts.

The John Barto Camp was broken into and ransacked sometime this week. Mr. Barto reports that as far as he can determine nothing was stolen.

Rufus Rich and Jane Costa attended the New England Sports Commission Motorcycle Races in Lisbon Center on Sunday, July 14.

Will Deroche has returned to Middle Dam for the rest of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. McHale who are spending the month at the South Arm Campground celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary at the Sunday evening buffet at Lakewood camps.

The fishing at Middle Dam this week is reported excellent.

In the late afternoon, July 9, a storm roared down the lake with heavy winds. We heard the whistle blow at the hotel which means emergency. One glance toward the dock told us what was happening. The wind had blown the end of the dock off and it was rapidly being driven to the dam.

George and Simon tied a line to the floating dock while Mrs. Parsons, Gail and Jane tied the other end to the float and began pulling the freed dock toward the stationary float in order to keep it from destroying Burton's dock or going down to the dam. The mission was successfully completed and further damage prevented.

The Oquossoc Lair, also known as Oscar Damon, came to Middle Dam this week on one of his frequent fishing trips.

NORTH PARIS

Eveline Barrett, Corres.

What a splendid week we have had. Heat and lots of it and Tuesday a bad shower. Lightning struck O'Hearon's electric fence. No power for one hour, and did the beet greens grow? Everyone in town has been buying beet greens locally and with the new store taters it made a feast. Better try some.

Many loads of concrete came for the bridge so the crew will move to Bangor after this week. The men have been here since April 29 and we shall miss seeing them and their many pieces of machinery. They seemed to be a good bunch and sure did like to play horse shoes.

Joseph Barrett went for a ride Friday. It was the first time he had been out since June 25. We visited the area where the National Guardsmen have been working on the Gore Road, Woodstock, and the Mart.

Mr. and Mrs. "Root" Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kalinowski went to Twin Bridges, Harrison, Sunday for a cook out and to enjoy the heat.

The dam at the North Paris boat facility has been a busy place the past week as both old and young have enjoyed a bath.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tripp and family, Lewiston, are moving to the Thompson house recently purchased by John O'Hearon.

BETHEL BOY SCOUT NEWS

On Tuesday, June 18, Boy Scout Troop No. 565 sponsored a combination Parents' Night and Court of Honor at which was featured the awarding of Tenderfoot status to 18 Scouts, as well as presenting the boys with the various Merit Badges and Skill Awards which they had earned. A special feature of the evening was a slide presentation about the Pine Tree Council's Camp Bomazeen, where most of the scouts recently spent a week. The presentation was made by Edward Federovich, the new Executive of the Pine Tree Council.

The coffee and desserts were provided by the most of the parents who attended the event. Awards were presented by the Assistant Scoutmasters, Dan Cole and Frank McKeever.

During the first week of July the Troop participated in a three-way record-breaking week of scouting at Camp Bomazeen, North Belgrade.

Troop 565 was the largest Troop in camp; a greater percentage participated than any other Troop (25 out of the 28 members of the troop); and this was the largest group of boys ever to attend from Bethel, as far as is known.

Troop 565 was presented with the "Camp All Around Unit Award" at the closing ceremonies on the last day of camp. This award reflects outstanding achievement at camp in such areas as Troop spirit, participation in camp life, general cleanliness and good inspections, and being on time to activities and ceremonies.

All who attended camp, including the adult supervision, agreed that it was an extremely worthwhile experience. Several boys advanced their swim status and all boys improved their general ability to swim.

Two boys, Scott Dennis and Morten Lyngholm, advanced to Second Class Scout while at camp. Troop 565 earned a total of 24 Merit Badges and 27 partially completed Merit Badges.

Camp closed with a final Retreat Ceremony on Saturday, July 6, at which awards and honors were presented to the scouts, troops, and scoutmasters who earned them. This was a colorful and significant event, giving a final summary and emphasis to the achievements of the week in camp. A number of parents, as well as the Scoutmasters, volunteered car space to drive the boys back to Bethel. This was the close of a highly successful week for the recently re-organized and enlarged troop.

Merit Badge counselors in almost all conceivable skills are greatly needed in the Bethel area. Adults who would like to volunteer a small amount of their time to give a large amount of help are asked to call Fred Burk at 824-2886.

Although the Troop will not officially hold meetings during the summer, troop activities will continue. Several outings are being planned and many of the boys are working individually on merit badges. Information concerning any such activity will be posted in this paper.

MASON HOUSE DEDICATION

brought these qualities to bear in support of our traditional values. Not only has he taken great care to see that the restoration was done as carefully as possible, he has also stimulated our interest with his own contribution of energy and enthusiasm. We owe him much, including the excitement and pleasure of planning for the future. . . . True generosity is more than a question of means; it is also a matter of the spirit. It is our hope that we prove worthy of the spirit of this magnificent gift."

In his remarks Dr. Davidson asked a question: "What responsibility has the Bethel Historical Society assumed in taking over the Moses Mason House? First, it has a duty of preserving the property as the headquarters of the Society and as the focus for educational activities for youngsters and adults in the Bethel area. Second, the Society is charged with acquiring furniture and furnishings appropriate to the house. When Mr. Bingham's Trustees bought the house, it was practically bare of furnishings. Citizens of Bethel have steadily given appropriate objects so that the house will be a small museum with exhibits of excellence. Third, the Society will preserve the lovely grounds of the house and see that they will not be desecrated into a parking lot. . . . The decision of Mr. Bingham's Trustees in 1971 to restore the Moses Mason House has been abundantly justified by the progress made by the Bethel Historical Society in assuming its responsibilities."

The principal speaker was Robert Darnon of the Maine State Museum. He was complimentary to the Society for its efforts over the past two years in bringing to fruition the plans for a Museum in Bethel, emphasizing the restraint used in furnishing the House and the unobtrusiveness of its decoration. He pointed out that Bethel was a frontier town and naturally its early houses would not have had the elegance one would find in Boston; that far from being an outstanding example of New England's splendor, the Mason House is a study in the eclectic architecture reflecting the modest, Federal characteristics common to many homes built early in the 19th century.

After the ceremony the guests were invited to the punch bowl and buffet table. Those who had not visited the House took the opportunity to do so before their supper, and observers reported that all visitors seemed surprised and delighted at the extent and completeness of the achievement over a relatively short period of time.

The Moses Mason House has now taken its place as an important feature of the town, offering to Bethel's inhabitants as well as to guests and brief visitors a restored home and garden reflecting its early history.

From Our Back Issues

10 YEARS AGO

The National Band of the Veterans of World War I presented a program of old time and modern music in South Paris July 8.

Dutch Elm disease was taking the elm trees rapidly. A public meeting was being arranged to let the people of Bethel know the seriousness of the problem in town.

Alvin Brown, East Waterford, was appointed to serve a three year term as a Farmers Home Administration Committeeman for Oxford County.

Newly citizens voted to build a new school building, located on Bear River (Foster School). The building would be 49 by 56 feet and would contain two rooms.

Three of the houses in the row at the former site of the saw mill in the Grafton neighborhood, South Bethel, (now Western Maine Lumber Co.), were taken down.

Death: Zenas Willis Bartlett.

Francis Berry accepted a teaching position at George Stevens Academy, Blue Hill.

The upper garage of Bennett's Garage Inc., Main Street (now Ernest Angevine's shop), was sold to Park-ard Oil Co., Norway. A new office and display room were added to the lower garage (now utilized by P. H. Chadbourne and Co.

One hundred and thirty-one were enrolled in the Red Cross Swimming Classes at Songo Pond.

Callahan Bros. Inc., Mechanic Falls, was awarded the contract of $416,276.24 to construct the Androscoggin bridge at Rumford Point.

Deaths: Guy L. Akers Sr., Mrs. Alice M. Bean, Asa H. Sessions.

30 YEARS AGO

Local State Guard Reserve officers and men were mobilized on report that three prisoners of war who had escaped from the prison camp at Percy, N. H., were probably in the Bethel vicinity.

F. Edward Hanscom left for duty in the U. S. Navy.

Death: Will Warren.

UPTON

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Worster of North Easton, Mass., called on friends and stayed overnight with Merna Allen, Tuesday.

Thunderstorms knocked out the power and to some extent the telephone Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lavalley went to Massachusetts for the week end. Anne Greenleaf and Nathaniel visited her mother, Elsie Douglass, one day last week.

Kay Ackert and friends spent a few days in Canada recently.

Jay Yarnell was in town last week and is having some work done on the Charlie Heywood place.

Marilyn and Dorothy Burnham were overnight guests of Kathy Bernier, Sunday. The girls reported a strange light in the southeastern sky about midnight. We watched it for about a half hour until it disappeared. After they left, I sat on the back stoop, enjoying the cool, fresh air, the symphony of the wind, the rigid disapproval of the dead apple tree of the swaying, dancing birch and willows, the heat lightning darting about the sky and the hushed night sounds. The light made a brief encore appearance and faded like the smile of the Cheshire cat.

The event was more strange because the girls had interrupted me while I was lost in a book on archeology and was "living" in ancient Babylonia from two three thousand B. C. and was suddenly catapulted into beyond present time. Both are old mysteries but one is buried in rubble and sand and unlocked by rains and stone carvings. The other alive, elusive, in the skies with no known key for unlocking.

The planning board met at the schoolhouse Tuesday evening. The chairwoman announced that Neil Dedrickson had been appointed to fill the vacancy of associate member left by the resignation of Jos. George, Jr. A letter was read stating that the oath of office was not required and there was some discussion about having news censored. There followed a discussion on comprehensive plan and further zoning. Neil Dedrickson, Virginia Williamson and Audrey Lavalley agreed to work on the project. There was a discussion about changing by-laws. It was moved and seconded to alternate voting privileges to the two associate members. This was not carried to a vote as the chairwoman felt it should first be determined whether it was legal to do so by vote at a meeting. Allen Murphy and Arline Bernier were appointed a committee to check on this. The next meeting will be held Wednesday.

Nelson Douglass visited his mother one day last week.
